DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to because Figure 2 depicts the interference t_a at point 10, while it is described as being the interference at the maximum displacement point 11 (Paragraph 19). Based on the difference between θ_{BS} and θ_3 , it appears that the maximum distance between the rim bead seat and the hypothetical tire bead base occurs at point 11. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As currently drafted, the claims define a maximum displacement point as being that point at which the “interference” is a maximum. Furthermore, applicant defines “interference” as being “the difference in distances between the bottom of the bead core and the bead base along the tire radial direction measured before and after mounting the tire. In looking at Figure 2, reference characters t_a , t_b , and t_c are used to define interference values; however, these values do not represent distances between the bottom of the bead core and the bead base. It appears that the aforementioned reference characters represent the distance between the rim bead seat and the hypothetical tire bead base. Thus, it is unclear what dimension “the interference” is supposed to define. It is additionally noted that Figure 1 includes reference characters l_1 , l_2 , and l_3 , which appear to extend from respective points on the inner surface of the bead core to the tire bead base; however, these reference characters are described as being reference lines (Paragraph 18) and do not appear to be defining an “interference” in the unmounted tire. It is emphasized that the reference character “t” is used throughout the original specification to define the “interference” values and such a description is not consistent with the figures and definition of “interference”. Applicant is asked to clarify the term “interference” without the introduction of new matter.

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
